Marcia Els' Illness Cause For Concern

Sudden serious illness of Marcia Els, sophomore coach of Pomeroy, was the cause for much concern among the college fans. By this past week, taking sick Sunday morning, Feb. 25, she was removed to Mercy hospital late that night by ambulance, attended by a local doctor at yet.

Hospital sources report that blood transfusions from a number of students donors during the week have helped to improve her condition greatly. However, she is not allowed to have visitors at yet.

The Rev. Marvin Grunke, dean of students, and Prof. Elizabeth Gjervick, dean of women, commented on the fine cooperation shown by the students willing to give transfusions.

Student spars that 'Lava' is a little bit different

Now's the time to get into that 'walking-on-the-sidewalk' complex guaranteed to promote the most rugged health and fitness by providing needed exercise. It aids also in the vegetative growth and classes and in the overall effect of health and well-being. Try it. Money back if not satisfied.

Age Drops With Family Influx

Average age at Wartburg has taken a sudden drop since the influx of family students during the year. According to the office of the dean, there are 38 married students registered for the second semester. In this group are 15 future Wartburgers, who are giving their careers a rest for the second semester. One student's goal is to finish his education before his wedding.

Housing facilities have proved to be the greatest problem to the couples. Seven occupied the college trailers, and four in the student camp. The remainder are occupying apartments and homes in Waverly. Many of the couples are moving in Plainfield and in Osceola.

Life Cooperative. The influx of the college trailer camp has become cooperative. There are children to be fed, and the husbands' studies to worry about. A major threat to the college life is the Gotoski experiment, seems to be with the family students. The dean is anxious to Mother to seek Junior to play and Papa to study. In some of the conditions, the students complain very little.

General opinion among these students is that more serious recreation is needed by the married men. Paul Schoenbeck, who experienced college life for the first time, and his wife, testified, "A married student has far more advantages, for he has no affairs to be very about and with a peaceful mind, he can devote himself to his studies."

Dramatists Add Pleasant Variety

Dramatics class presented a pleasant bit of variety in the one-act comedy, "Saved," by John W. Rogers. Dr. J. W. Brewster of the speech department directed the performance.

A modern play presented in an old way with very little property or scenery proved that imagination and pretense can go a long way. The players realistically demonstrated the method of conducting gutterball games with the aid of the real thing.

The Dramatics sisters, Minnie and Emily, played by Lois Landeck, senior, and Mary Stoffius, junior, were entertaining "The King's Daughters." Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Bostick and Miss Zilla Birdsong, played by Audrey Mattis, junior, Rosella Birken, sophomore, and Mildred Eberstein, sophomore.

In spite of Miss Minnie's persistent actions, her niece, Sue Remington, played by Mrs. Chesley, junior, was successful in eloping with her sweetheart.

Need Appreciation For Good In Others, Says Leland Stowe

Need for an appreciation of what is good in other countries was emphasized last evening by Leland Stowe, future foreign correspondent who spoke at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Wartburg Artists' Society committee.

Emphasizing the general topic of the Soviet-American crisis, Mr. Stowe urged his audience to look at the mistakes of the United States before condemning Russia and its doctrines. He admitted giving the Russians the benefit of a great many doubts.

"But, I'm not, sorry," repeated the well-known American journalist, commenting on his attitude toward the Russians.

Mr. Stowe listed as the three great American diplomats mistakes of the present day the refusal of this country to accept Russia as a great power, misuse of the atomic bomb and what he called the impetuous, disastrous folly of the Truman doctrine.

"You can't talk big unless you have something to back it up," he said, referring to the lack of American resources to block Communism all over the world.

Emphasizing the importance of watching the present day, Mr. Stowe urged his listeners to remember the great scientists who were given only the western Europe.

Old Main Witnesses Twelfth Choir Launching

Old Main witnessed the twelfth launching of a Wartburg capella choir tour as the choristers boarded chartered buses at 3:30 p.m., yesterday. A large crowd of fellow students was on hand to wish the choristers "good voyage." The choir was scheduled to present a concert at Dyrast last evening.

Symposium—Forum By LSA At Luther

Symposium-forum on "Mixed Marriage" was presented by four Wartburg students at the Luther College Lutheran Student League meeting in Decorah last Sunday.

Robert Gronlund, junior, was chairman of the symposium. Topics presented were "Mixed Marriage with Other Protestants" by Irma Jean Hoefling, sophomore; "Mixed Marriage with Unbelievers" by Doris Hagen, junior, and "Mixed Marriage with Catholics" by Russell Hendrickson, sophomore.

Eleanor Stubbenvoll, sophomore, was in charge of recreation and group singing. She also acted as a Negro spiritual. Merrill Herder, sophomore, was in charge of devoting. Slides were shown after the recreation depicting the various Lutheran held last summer at Montevideo, Calif.

Luther college LSA deputation will present a program at the Wartburg college LSA meeting on March 7.

Aim Of Sociologists To Study Waverly

An aim of the contemporary sociological studies, with Prof. August Beatie, instructor, is to study Waverly as a community.

Some of the studies made will be used by the city planning commission as it designs the Waverly tomorrow. First project of the group will be to make a land use map of this city, on which each city lot is shown and how it is being used.

"Since this will be a large project for this class," stated Prof. Beatie, "the sociological studies will also help gather information needed."

That future classes continue this study and that they use their guide recommendations which will have been by the present group will be determined. Since Waverly is a changing community, the present study will be kept up-to-date by the classes of the future.

Two Weeks, No Letters?

More than two weeks without letters? Well, that won't be the case if members send a few welcome epistles choir-way in care of local contact chairman about three or four days before the scheduled concert.

Goods Hold Meeting

"This meeting is the first of a series which we plan to hold," Mrs. Elizabeth Gjervick, dean of women, told the coeds at an after-chapel gathering Feb. 23 in the college cafeteria.

"Various topics, including homemaking, budgeting, etc. will be presented," Dean Gjervick continued.

She then turned the rest of the evening over to Miss Hazel May Snyder, home economics department head, who presented a talk on etiquette.

Statistics Important, Interesting

Statistics may be frightening things at times, but when they are faced as figures vitally important in our own lives, then they become rather interesting. Of vital importance to Wartburg students should be the figures released recently by the Board of Christian Higher Education of the American Lutheran church.

An example of these statistics that should provide reason for favorable comment from students is that relating to tuition costs. American Lutheran colleges in America, Wartburg ranks in the lower 15 per cent as to cost of tuition. In more exact terms this means that Wartburg's $90 tuition fee is much lower than the average of $150 charged by Lutheran colleges throughout the nation each semester.

Even more heartening is the information that Wartburg ranks with the lowest five per cent in tuition costs among liberal arts colleges over the United States. Their average tuition fee each semester is $185. Primary reason given for the low tuition figure at Wartburg is the large subsidy provided to the college by the American Lutheran church, this subsidy being among the highest of all church-owned colleges.

Of interest to pre-theological students should be the fact that this church will need a total of over five hundred new pastors in the next eight years, there being over a hundred pastoral vacancies in the church at the present time. This means, in effect, that the two seminaries of our church, Wartburg and Capital, must graduate 65 students each year, all of whom being made for retirements, deaths, missions and retirements to executive and educational posts throughout the church.

Some Iowa students wonder why Wartburg is becoming more and more national in its scope. The answer might be found in the fact that 43.6 per cent of the Wartburg students enrolled from communities more than two hundred miles from Waverly.

Wartburg ranks at the top of the four American Lutheran church colleges in percentage of Lutheran students enrolled, with almost ninety per cent.

These statistics can give Wartburgers a warm feeling.

Paper Wants Definite Suggestions

"The function of the college paper is to serve as a campus information source or bulletin board to interest and stimulate its readers. In its editorial function it should not operate as a campus democracy, a way of life in which students proceed by undue inquiry and debate."—"Campus Activities" edited by Harwood Hand.

In the near future, after the return of the choir, the TRUMPET will conduct a poll of students and faculty members in an attempt to gain campus reactions to the publication. Editors also hope that by this means the student body may obtain a little better insight into the problems of running a student newspaper.

Any newspaper, whether it be a large municipal daily, a college paper or a small county weekly, is directly responsible to its readers. Their wants should be, to a great extent, the desires of the paper itself. If the paper fails to satisfy the wants of its readers, it certainly fails in its attempt to be a campus open forum.

Fortunately for the cause of democracy on the Wartburg campus, many criticisms of the TRUMPET have been received throughout the present school year. Unfortunately these criticisms have not been enough to provide the staff with material for improvement of the paper.

TRUMPET editors want criticism, both favorable and adverse. Only through specific suggestions can the newspaper be improved to meet the needs and wants of the Wartburg campus.

Getting Acquainted

Optimistic Prexy In White House

Among the most optimistic of the Wartburg seniors is Ernest Wilkoff, class president and pre-law student, who is already dwelling in the White House—the one across from Luther hall.

First door to the right at the head of the famous White House staircase opens to the official office of this ambitious future lawyer. Instead of pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln on the wall, colorful, unframed pictures taken from "Field and Stream" cover the holes in the plaster.

No Coat of Arms.

Instead of the coat of arms of Lafayette, a creel and a fishing rod hang above one of the eels in the master chamber of the White House.

Ernie's healthy interest in fishing may get him somewhere, even if his place of residence doesn't. The time may come when a week vacation on the waters of the Potomac or in the Gulf stream will replace his week-end jaunts at the Maquette river at Strawberry Point. Although he longs to go to the Ozark National League, the senior president specializes in fly-fishing, which was about the only kind of fishing of which Isaac Walton knew nothing.

Political Science Hobby.

Political science, specifically Republican politics, is another hobby of this blond native of Preston. Many an hour is whittled away by political and historical arguments with Wartburg's staunchest Socialist, Hugo Schwartz.

Son of the home town's tax inspector, Ernie was interested in fishing his first year in high school and high school days there. In 1942 this social science major embarked on a career in the Marines. Ernie spent three years at the job. His tours of the Pacific, however, were undertaken in larger craft than his amphibious tractor.

Ex-Member of Senate.

As a member of both the Student Senate and the Faculty-Student Council, the future marriage lawyer has been active since his return to Wartburg in 1946. Fond of horseback riding, Ernie was th. favor of "charmed horses" in the middle of the stream." His interest in swimming indicates success as a turn-of-it.

When forced to buckle down and study, his first love is history.

Looking 'Em Over

Once again the end of the basketball season comes as a harbinger of spring. In playing their final game, the Knights put on their last exhibition of basketball this year. It was especially gratifying to defeat a team that had rung up a lopsided victory over the Knights in the early part of the season.

Jim Redstrom, lanky center from Los Angeles, showed up well while he was in the game, giving indications of great capabilities.

Outstanding player of the game was rugged Paul Bruns, who played a hard-up game besides pouring in 14 points.

Ordinarily at this time of year the sports program would be in the doldrums, but there will be plenty of activity for the sports-minded Knights. Besides the activity of the varsity matmen, an exciting intramural basketball program is being arranged. Also, baseball aspirants will soon limber up for the forthcoming diamond joust.

Around The Conference

The past week brought together two of the strong Iowa conference teams, Luther and Loras. Also meeting in this game were two of the conference high scorers, Marty of Loras and Veghlin of Luther.

In the individual scoring record for the conference, Wartburg placed two players with an 8.0 average or better. Knights Sautter and Bruns had an 8.0 and 9.4 average respectively.

In a rough game Upper Iowa Peacocks defeated Parsons 43-38. A result of the game was the breaking off of relations of Parsons with Upper Iowa. Although this is to be regretted, incidents such as this will not be eliminated until the conference is reformed, with more authority vested in the conference commissioner.

Predictions

Next week the Iowa conference wrestling meet will be held at St. Ambrose college in Davenport. No trophy will be given to the winning team in this meet, but there will be medals for the individual winners in each class. This column predicts that the Orange and Black grapplers are the ones to pull some surprises and bring home a fair share of the individual honors.

Season Over With Records Showing Totals

By Adam Melinier

"It's all over now"

Yes, as far as Wartburg careers are concerned, the book on the 1947-48 basketball season is closed. As the dust settles, the records reveal a total of 6 wins four of them conference tilts and 11 setbacks.

Knights racked up a total of 755 points in 17 games for an average of 44.4 points per game. Their opponents, meanwhile, amassed 699 tilts for a 52.88 point average.

Leading scorer for the Black and Orange was Darryl Sautterby, forward "Dutch" Sautterby with 131 points. Lloyd Spier was second with 123, followed by Gene Bowdish with 118 and Paul Bruns, who had 88 points in nine games.

Bruns, who made his appearance in the second semester, had the best scoring average, with 9.77 points per game. Sautterby was second with 7.70, and Spier averaged 7.27 per game.

Landscaping Campus Area Chosen As Student Project

Landscaping of the campus area between Luther hall and Bremer avenue was chosen by Wartburg students as the second semester project Thursday at convocation.

Only other project on the ballot was one concerning the raising of funds for the new chapel-auditorium. Votes given the landscaping proposal numbered 150, while 130 were cast for the chapel-auditorium project and 26 for others.

To Cost $3500.

Approximate cost of landscaping the area will be $3500. A former contract covers grading and seeding plus $300 for planning. After that work is completed, another contract will be let to complete planting as designed by landscape architects, Morell and Nichols of Minneapolis.

"It completed organizing plan, there should be one of the best spots in Waverly," said the Rev. W. C. Langholz, development director, who presented information on the proposed projects to students at the Thursday convocation.

Focal point in the renovated campus will be Luther hall with its new addition of classrooms and chapel auditorium.

Trees To Be Planted.

Several varieties of evergreen and deciduous trees and flowering shrubs will be used in beautifying the landscaped area. If the student project is completed, a bronze plate will be set in a prominent place crediting the student body for its efforts.

The Rev. Mr. Langholz predicted that students will see some results of the landscaping before the end of the present school year if they complete their project.

Provision for student selection of the semester project was made after considerable debate among senators at a called meeting of the Student Senate Monday evening in Luther hall.

Barber Shop Contest Referred.

Question of entering a barber-shop quartet contest at Ames was referred to the student activities committee. A suggestion that the Senate send letters to congressmen favoring the Marshall plan was voted down. Mel Bergin, sophomore, and Dorothea Diers, freshman, were selected by the Senate to represent Wartburg at a meeting of the Mid-West Conference of Lutheran schools to be held March 12 and 13 at Luther college, Decorah.

Fads and Fashions

Girls, have you seen the new spring coats? The latest style is featuring a large Puritan collar and New Plymouth pockets with their large, buttoned flaps. Navy blue and green are the new popular colors, but still on the list are gray and all pastel colors.

You'll want a hat to go with that new coat, and on your fashion plate are the be-ribboned straw that went canoeing way back when or a "Florette" sailor, and of course, you could have a great-granddaughter of the old-fashioned bonnet streamlined in straw cloth.

Very popular this spring will be bright red and green shoes to match the rest of your ensemble, brightness being not only popular in low-heeled shoes but in pumps for dress wear.

Follows, here are a few more notes from "Sparky" on the "Beld Look."

There's a new hat for you. It's a snap brim in rich cinnamon brown with black band and gunmetal grey binding. The binding is barely visible on the top of the brim, but very prominent on the underside—seem from side and back, it's a wide band of color.

Jewelry gives a man his chance to go to town with confidence. The clasps are wide slabs of gold. Cuff links are larger and
